5. Who we share your personal information with

In order to provide you with our services and meet our legal obligations, we only share your data with 3rd parties, in the following circumstances:

- To fulfil your order;

- To verify your identity;
- To authorise debit/credit card payments and any other transactions authorised by the supporter or customer;
- To manage and maintain the accuracy of your records;
- To handle complaints and improve customer service;
- To administer marketing on behalf of SUFC;
- To maintain up to date preferences for the marketing you would like to receive from SUFC
- To meet legal obligations, for example, for the purposes of national security, taxation and criminal investigations; and
- If SUFC is acquired by a third party, in which case personal data held by it, about its customers, will be one of the transferred assets.

We'll never make your personal data available to anyone outside SUFC for them to use for their own marketing purposes without your prior consent.

6. Third party links

Our website may include links to third party websites, plug-ins and applications. Clicking on those links or enabling those connections may allow third parties to collect or share data about you. We do not control these third-party websites and are not responsible for their privacy statements. When you leave our website, we encourage you to read the privacy notice or policy of every website you visit.

7. Transferring your personal information outside the EEA

The EEA is the European Economic Area, which consists of the EU Members States, Iceland, Liechtenstein and Norway. If we transfer your personal information outside the EEA we have to tell you.

We do not transfer your data outside of the EEA.

8. Data security

We have put in place appropriate security measures to prevent your personal data from being accidentally lost, used or accessed in an unauthorised way, altered or disclosed. In addition, we limit access to your personal data to those employees, agents, contractors and other third parties who have a business need to know. They will only process your personal data on our instructions and they are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We have put in place procedures to deal with any suspected personal data breach and will notify you and any applicable regulator (including the ICO) of a breach where we are legally required to do so.

9. How long do we keep your personal information

We will keep your personal information for as long as you are our supporter or customer.

After you stop being an active supporter or customer, because you have stopped regularly using our services or buying our products, we may keep your personal information for up to 6 years for one of the following reasons:

- To respond to any questions or complaints from you;
- To maintain our records;
- To comply with laws applicable to us.

After such time, we will securely delete your personal information. If we receive a bounceback from any of the emails that we send to you on a number of occasions, we will delete your personal information in relation to those emails.

10. Marketing

We may use your personal information to tell you about relevant services and any upcoming offers.

We can only use your personal information to send you marketing messages if we have either your consent or a legitimate interest to do so.

You can ask us to stop sending you marketing messages at any time – you just need to contact us, or use the opt-out links on any marketing message sent to you.

Where you opt out of receiving marketing messages, this will not apply to personal data provided to us as a result of purchasing our services or any other transaction between you and us.

11. Your rights

You have certain rights which are set out in the law relating to your personal information. The most important rights are set out below.

Getting a copy of the information we hold

You can ask us for a copy of the personal information which we hold about you, by writing to the Data Protection Officer (in Section 1). This is known as a data subject access request.

You will not have to pay a fee to access your personal data, unless we believe that your request is clearly unfounded, repetitive or excessive. In such circumstances we can charge a reasonable fee or refuse to comply with your request.

We will try to respond to all legitimate requests within one month.

Telling us if information we hold is incorrect

You have the right to question any information we hold about you that you think is wrong or incomplete. Please contact the Data Protection Officer if you want to do this and we will take reasonable steps to check its accuracy and, if necessary, correct it.

Telling us if you want us to stop using your personal information

You have the right to:

- Object to our use of your personal information (known as the right to object); or

- Ask us to delete the personal information (known as the right to erasure); or
- Request the restriction of processing.

There may be legal reasons why we need to keep or use your data, which we will tell you if you exercise one of the above rights.

Withdrawing consent

You can withdraw your consent to us using your personal information at any time. If you would like to withdraw your consent to any marketing communications you receive from us, please visit the preference centre details of which can be found at the base of each email. Please contact the Data Protection Officer if you want to withdraw your consent for all other activities. If you withdraw your consent, we may not be able to provide you with our services.

Request a transfer of data

You may ask us to transfer your personal information to a third party. This right only applies to automated information which you initially provided consent for us to use or where we used the information to perform a contract with you.

12. Making a complaint

Please let us know if you are unhappy with how we have used your personal information by contacting the Data Protection Officer (details can be found in section 1).

You also have a right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office. You can find their contact details at www.ico.org.uk. We would be grateful for the chance to deal with your concerns before you approach the ICO so please contact us in the first instance.
